

Concrete specification testing workflow

Each binding defines one concrete execution; proof provenance remains explicit at every outcome.

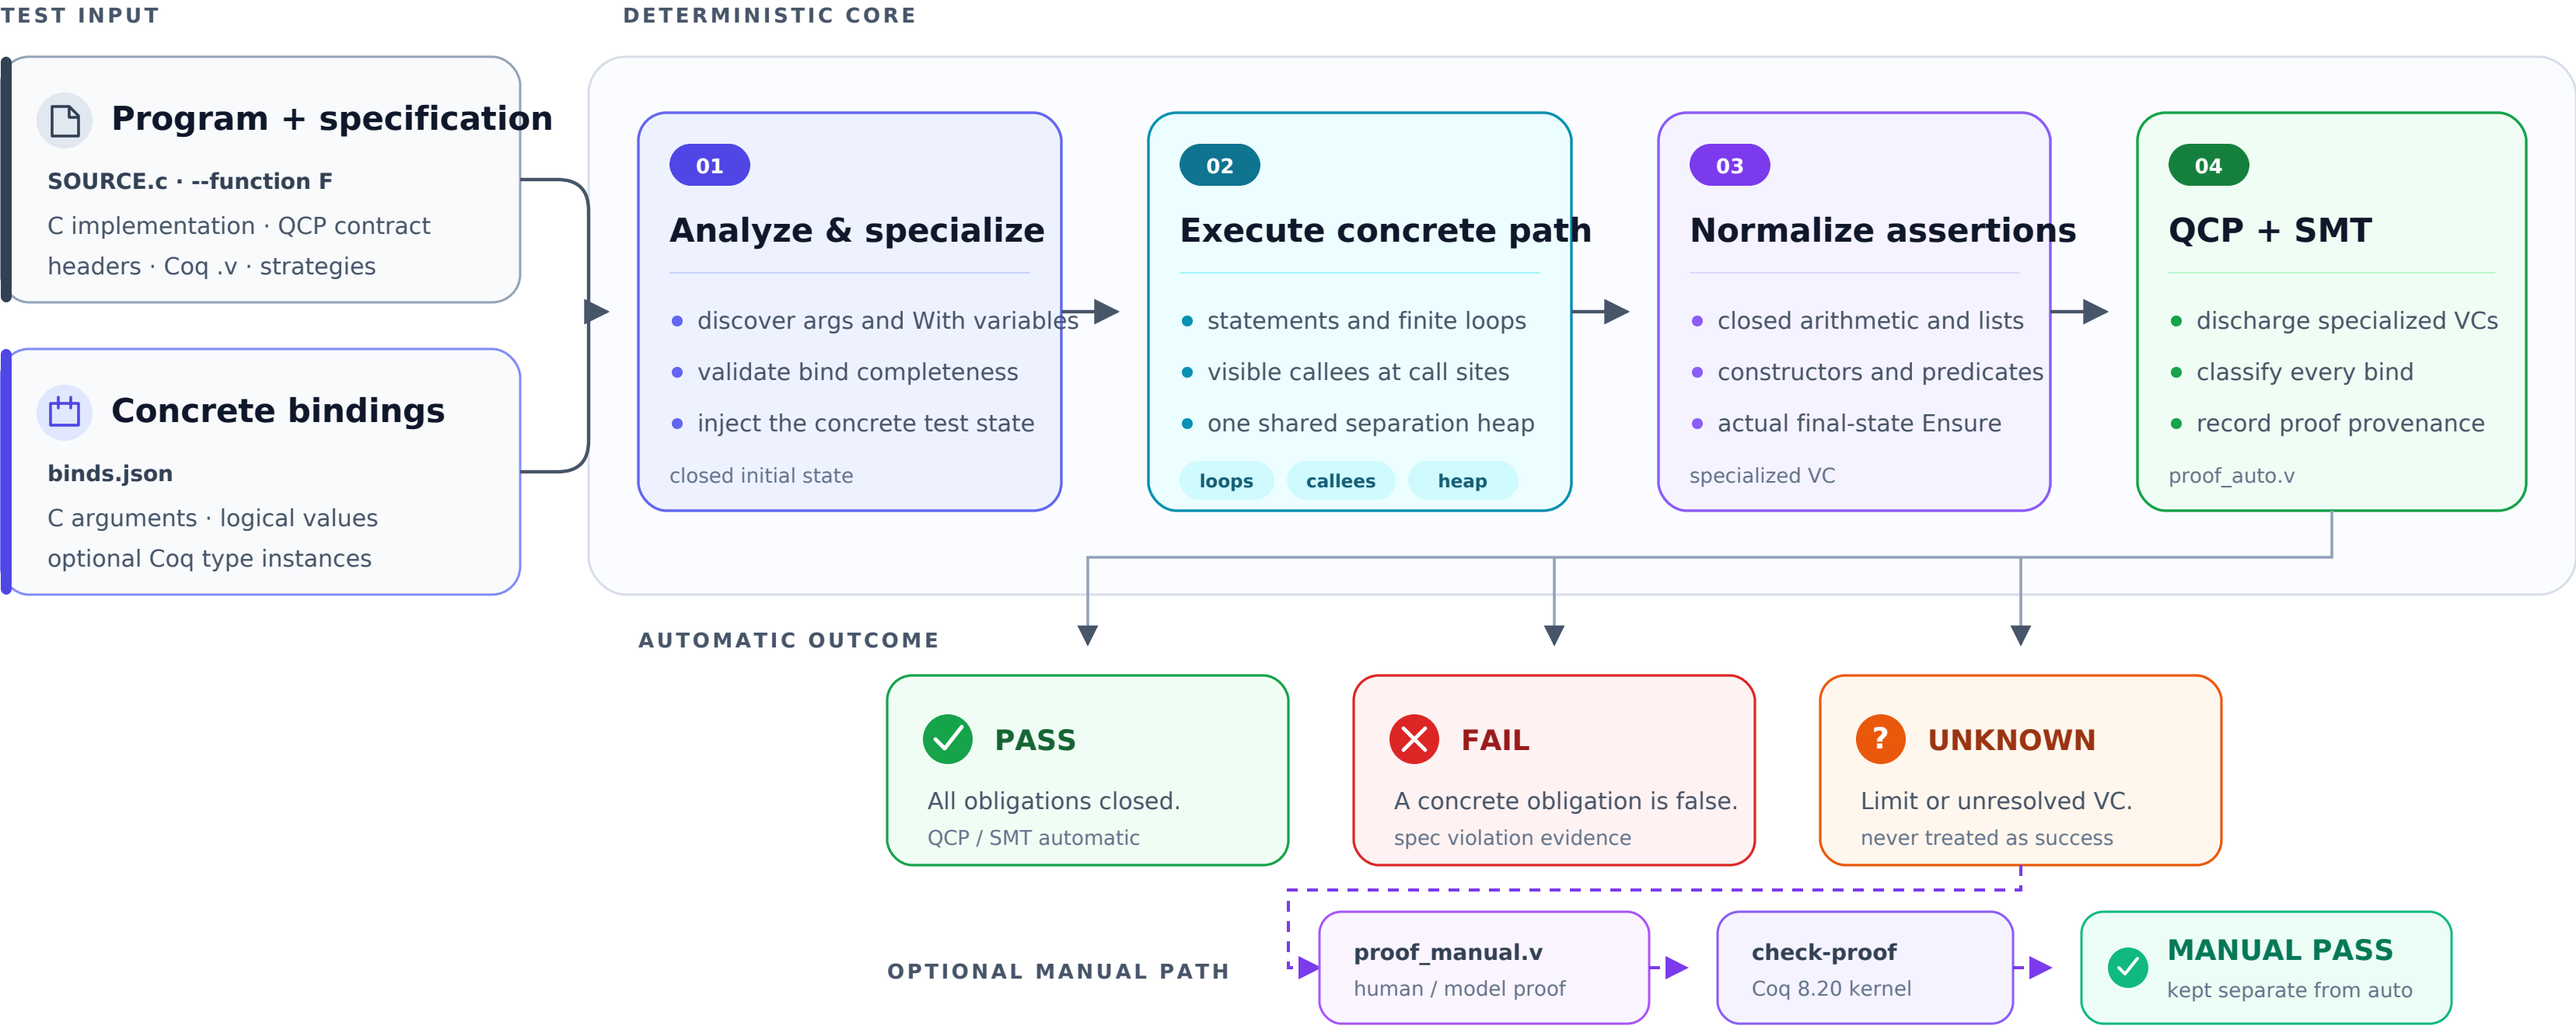

Figure 1. TeSpec executes the concrete program state, checks the original postcondition, and reports the source of every accepted proof.